

MISCELLANEA GEOGRAPHICA

REGIONAL STUDIES ON DEVELOPMENT

Dear Member of the 17th International Conference of Historical Geographers

We would like to invite you to submit research papers to be considered for publication in the “Miscellanea Geographica – Regional Studies on Development” journal. The journal is published by the Faculty of Geography and Regional Studies of University of Warsaw.

About the Journal

The journal is meant to be interdisciplinary in nature, which allows to present and confront research results in geography, regional studies, historical issues, economic, social and political issues, concerning foremost problems related to broadly understood development, as well as natural, social and economic conditions in various regions of the world. The scale of the presented phenomena is varied, ranging from those occurring locally, through regional and even to – in justified cases relating to comparative studies – global ones.

Why to submit?

- high quality of papers;
- articles peer-reviewed by international experts;
- fast process of reviewing and editing;
- language verification by native speaker;
- clear and precise editing rules;
- submissions accepted in a broad scope of scientific disciplines (geography, regional studies, environmental sciences, economics, social, historical and political sciences);
- highly-evaluated journal, including the list of the Polish Ministry of Science and Higher Education;
- indexed in over 30 abstracting services, e.g. Emerging Sources Citation Index (Web of Science Core Collection by Clarivate Analytics, formerly Thomson Reuters), SCOPUS, Index Copernicus, EBSCO Discovery Service, EBSCO - TOC Premier, ProQuest - The Summon, CEJSH, WorldCat (OCLC), Current Geographical Publications, DOAJ, ERIH PLUS, GeoRef, SJR, Ulrich's Periodicals Directory;
- the Open Access model allows access to its target audience and the peer-review system by at least two reviewers together with the outstanding scientists of the advisory board, ensures that quality is maintained throughout.
